Be part of a Foote School Summer! The Foote School Summer Theater Program is one of the longest running and most renowned summer theater experiences in the nation. Participating students will stage a full-length, major production while receiving instruction in acting, singing, dancing and the technical components of production — including set design and construction, costuming, lighting and props — under the guidance of Director Julian Schlusberg and Scenic Designer and Production Manager Frank Alberino.

You can also join Foote for Early and Late Summer Adventures. Learn crafts and new games, and make great friends on Foote's beautiful campus at the edge of Yale University. Join us for a Foote School summer to remember!

About Foote: Foote's 17.8-acre campus has 11 classroom buildings, including a state-of-the-art science and technology building, an air-conditioned black-box theater with a large backstage/prep area, music and art studios, a gymnasium and a butterfly garden and wooded area for outdoor education. Students come to Foote School Summer from many different schools and backgrounds.
